

JACKIE HUNT

Jackie has held highly responsible, senior-level positions delivering solutions and services to Federal, State, and Local Government, Commercial and International customers. She has extensive experience working at major corporations delivering complex information systems to the customers. She has a depth of experience presenting businesses involved in rapidly evolving technologies. She has an excellent background in developing strategic and business plans, as well as managing business development, marketing, capture management, and proposal organizations to obtain new business. She has developed and implemented program-specific marketing campaigns using various media such as web pages, brochures, web broadcasts, and trade shows.

Over her career, Jackie has taken on more and more challenging roles and responsibilities with promotion to a Corporate Vice President/Officer position at a multibillion-dollar science and technology corporation to more currently providing consulting services leveraging her career experience.